

September is Library Card Sign-Up Month! Join us for

Library Card Bingo

Ask a librarian for a book recommendation, or fill out a Personal Librarian request at tclib.org/personal .	Check out a non-fiction book on a topic that you're curious about.	Check out a book that teaches you how to do something new.	Check out a graphic novel--they're so much more than comic books!	Study for a test at the library--there are lots of quiet spots with no distractions.
Download an e-book or e-audiobook at tclib.org/digital .	Check out a Playaway--they're pocket-sized audiobooks that you use with your own headphones.	Purchase a new or gently used book, DVD, audiobook or album from the Book Nook.	Check out a book you've been meaning to read for a long time.	Reread a book you loved. Do you still love it?
Read a book to or with a child.	Bring a little one to Storytime in the Yard, Wednesdays at 11:00 a.m.	Get or renew your Teton County Library card! 	Check out a 1000 Books Before Kindergarten kit.	Take a child to or visit one of our Little Free Libraries (locations at tclib.org/littlefree).
Book a study room (1-2 people) or meeting room (1-4 people) at tclib.org/study .	Use a database like Consumer Reports or My Heritage to help you in a project.	Ask a reference question by email (research@tclib.org), phone (307-733-2164 x3110), or in person (hours M-F 10-4).	Take a LinkedIn Learning class, sign up for Pronunciator or stream a Great Courses video from Kanopy.	Check out a career-related book or audiobook (e-books count!).
Follow us on Facebook, Instagram, SoundCloud, Youtube, and/or Spotify @TetonCountyLibrary	Fill out a comment card (near the front desk and youth desk).	Put a library sticker on your car, laptop, waterbottle, notebook, etc.	Give us a social media shout out by sharing something about your library visit or service or the book you're reading.	Post a selfie with your library card and remember to tag us! @TetonCountyLibrary

How to play:

Every time you complete a row of five squares (top to bottom, left to right, or diagonal) email communications@tclib.org telling us which of the rows you completed, and you will receive one entry into our weekly prize raffle. At the end of the month, write your name and phone number or email on the back of this card and drop off at the desk for a chance to win an additional prize. Have fun!
